The University of Ottawa offers a one-time award of $1,500 to students finishing in second, third and fourth place for the President’s Scholarships, the Chancellor’s Scholarships and the Indigenous Leadership Scholarship, for a total of 45 finalists. This award can be combined with other admission scholarships.
ÉMILIE, FOURTH YEAR
Program: Honours Bachelor in Lettres françaises
Hometown: Sturgeon Falls, Ontario

Émilie was hesitant to apply for scholarships, but her father encouraged her, saying, “You’ve got good grades. You should apply.” She was surprised to receive a President’s Scholarship, but she feels her answers to the questions worked in her favour, since “they want to see if you’re able to look at your own experience, highlight the elements of your answers creatively and not give the answers that everyone else gives. You’ve got to stand out in some way.”

Being able to maintain the average needed to renew her scholarship gave her “major confidence,” which she will carry over to all her future endeavours.

JOSH, FOURTH YEAR
Program: Honours Bachelor in Health Sciences
Hometown: Toronto, Ontario

For Josh, receiving the Chancellor’s Scholarship sealed the deal on his decision to choose the University of Ottawa. “It showed me that uOttawa cared about my future. I saw uOttawa as a place where I can really grow as a student and a future professional.” Although he had received scholarship offers from other places, uOttawa’s proximity to his hometown as well as the program drew him here: “I really like the courses. If you compare the courses to other universities, you don’t find anything close.”

Throughout high school, Josh worked hard to prepare for his university career. “Receiving the scholarship just showed me that I was doing something right. It’s a huge motivator.” He hopes to study medicine at uOttawa one day.

ÉMILIE, THIRD YEAR
Program: Honours Bachelor in Criminology
Hometown: Mont-Tremblant, Quebec

Émilie chose a bit of a different academic path than other Quebec students. She came to the University of Ottawa straight from high school rather than going to CEGEP.

The Indigenous Leadership Scholarship she received gave her the financial freedom to focus on her studies instead of working. She also used the opportunity to rediscover her Innu (Montagnais) culture and forge links with other students at the Indigenous Resource Centre, “a really important social support.”

Émilie encourages future students to apply for financial aid because “it’s just one or two documents to fill out, and even if it takes two hours, there are many long-term advantages.”

FINANCIAL PLANNING CHECKLIST

FOLLOW THESE STEPS SO YOU DON’T FORGET ANYTHING!

During the year you apply

SEPTEMBER TO NOVEMBER

Start planning your budget

☐ Make a budget listing all possible expenses and ways to meet them.
☐ List all of your sources of income: summer or part-time job, savings, money from your parents, etc.
☐ Check out the bursaries and scholarships awarded automatically (pages 2 to 12) and whether you meet the eligibility criteria. If you’re eligible, add them as potential sources of income.
☐ Estimate your living expenses using the information on the cost of university and the financial assistance available, found on pages 14 or 15.
☐ Set your financial goals, for example, the amount of debt per term you’re comfortable with or the amount you’d like to save up for a personal project.
☐ Write all of this down. Download the cash-flow worksheet and use the financial planning tools on our website: uOttawa.ca/financial-aid-awards/financial-planning

DECEMBER TO MARCH

Apply for scholarships and bursaries

☐ Access Online Scholarships and Bursaries through uoZone (you will receive your user ID once you apply to uOttawa) and create your profile. When you enter information on your education, interests, program and financial need, Online Scholarships and Bursaries will show you all the scholarships and bursaries that match your profile.
☐ Apply for scholarships and bursaries that are not awarded automatically. You can apply for these before you are admitted.

MAY TO JUNE

Apply for government financial aid

☐ Learn about the financial aid programs offered by your province or territory. Check the applicable website and use the aid estimator to create your budget.
For a list of websites, scan the QR code.

☐ Start the process early! Applications can take four to six weeks to process.
☐ Fill out the parental information section in your application for provincial/territorial aid and submit it.
☐ Print the consent and signature pages for you and your parents.
☐ Check if you must provide supporting documentation.
☐ Sign all sections of the consent forms.
☐ Mail or upload all your documentation to your provincial or territorial ministry’s website.
☐ Fill out the online Master Student Financial Assistance Agreement (MSFAA) document for your province or territory, sign it and bring it with appropriate ID and proof of bank account information to a designated Canada Post outlet (except in Quebec).
☐ Enrol in courses.
AUGUST AND SEPTEMBER

Check your enrolment
- Ensure that you’re enrolled in all your courses. Also, keep in mind that withdrawing from courses may affect your eligibility for scholarships, bursaries, loans and financial aid that you have received.

Check that your funds have been deposited
- If you’ve applied early enough for scholarships, bursaries and government financial aid and have met the application deadlines, your funds should be available in time to pay for your fall tuition and fees. Normally, uOttawa scholarships and bursaries are deposited in your account over the summer, while government financial aid is deposited at the start of the term (if you’ve met the deadlines).

Quebec residents
- Print your Guarantee Certificate and bring it to a bank in Quebec.

Find a job on campus through the Work-Study Program (WSP)
- Consider working part time at the University during your studies through the Work-Study Program. See page 7 on the flip side of this brochure to learn more.
- To qualify for the WSP, you must demonstrate financial need. Fill out the Financial Questionnaire, accessible in uoZone starting August 1. You don’t have to receive government financial aid to be eligible.
- Starting in early August, access the Work-Study Navigator through uoZone and apply for jobs that interest you.

In-course scholarships and bursaries
- Complete a current Financial Questionnaire, if required.
- Apply online.

OCTOBER AND NOVEMBER

Plan for your Winter term
- To remain eligible for scholarships, bursaries and financial aid, you must stay enrolled and maintain satisfactory academic standing.
- Check Online Scholarships and Bursaries regularly. While some scholarships and bursaries are offered on admission, others are available once you’ve started your studies.
- Update your income information in your provincial ministry account (if required).
